

?About AtomicHost

Backstory

AtomicHost, Created and maintained by Fin - Mostly known by the username "FinGymPlayz" online - has always had a passion in Computer Science, Server Management, and Software Engineering. He made it his journey with a lot of trial and error, to start up his own Minecraft Server. This Minecraft server he made went by the name of "LifeServer". The LifeServer lived many years, but eventually met its end. After learning about how Minecraft server work, He also got interested in making Servers on other games, these servers were just private servers for his friends, on games like Rust, BeamNG, and FiveM.

AtomicHost

I made AtomicHost after many years of hosting, and learning how a majority of game servers work. I decided to share my knowledge with the world, in a cheap and affordable game server hosting.
