

?Changing Environment Variables

You can change environment variables, this may include the `server version`, `server image`, `Java Image`, `Name of the server`, etc.

How can i change these variables?

1. Select `Settings` on the server you want to edit
2. Change the variables as needed, by clicking `update` to update them

Why does my new variables not update on my server?

The server variables may sometimes require a server restart, or in some cases when you are changing the image the server is using, you may need to reinstall the server

Note: Reinstalling the server will not wipe data, it will just re-run the same installation script as it ran when the server was first created, we do recommend making backups whenever you do choose to reinstall the server if there are any vital data to your server
